UPDATE : Homicide Investigation

Update re. Homicide Investigation 729 87th Avenue North

Victim: David Keith Amos, DOB 10/06/60 of 727 87th Avenue North

Detectives have identified Amos as the homicide victim located at 727 87th Avenue North last Saturday. His body was found under the boards of a shed in the backyard of the property and detectives believe he was murdered by strangulation sometime on or around July 24th, 2015.

Detectives learned that Schlag and McMillin, who resided with the Amos, had planned to murder him in order to steal his prescription medications.

################ Previous Release ################

Homicide Investigation

Arrested Suspects: Jennifer A. Schlag, DOB 10/01/1969 and Derrick McMillin, DOB 04/03/1975

Detectives are currently on the scene of a homicide at 729 87th Avenue North. The investigation began at around 1:00 a.m. this morning when information was received that a murder had taken place inside the home.

Upon further investigation it appears that the two suspects, who resided at the residence, murdered a 54 year old male acquaintance inside the home sometime within the last week or two. It appears the motive was over a drug related issue. The body was concealed on the property and has now been recovered.

Both suspects will be charged with 1st degree murder.

The Pinellas County Sheriff’s Office Forensics Unit is processing the crime scene.

The victim’s name will be released upon confirmation of his identity and notification of his next of kin.