Special Enforcement for Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety

Thursday, December 1, 2016, at 10:00 am, the St. Petersburg Police Department will begin high visibility enforcement operations for pedestrian and bicycle safety in the most needed locations of the city. During the first phase of this multi-week campaign, officers will be giving out warnings and educational materials to inform the public. In December alone, officers will target 10 different spots in St. Petersburg.

Our 1st enforcement operation will take place December 1st, in the area of 3rd Avenue South and 3rd Street South, 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. Traffic Division Lieutenant Ed Borrelli will be available should the media wish to speak to him and media will be able to video and photograph the educational effort.

This phase of the enforcement is designed to target unsafe behaviors of all road users, including motorists, pedestrians, and bicyclists. Officers will be distributing educational materials including tips to ensure everyone is aware of the laws of the road. This information is aimed at changing behaviors and we hope the effort will ultimately lead to a safer community for pedestrians, drivers, and cyclists.

The second phase of the enforcement grant will follow in the New Year with officers ticketing offenders in those same locations.

This special educational enforcement is part of an FDOT grant for bicycle and pedestrian safety.
