Assault on Uber Driver

At 8:40 p.m., Tuesday, February 7th, police responded to a caller who said a man was bleeding in the McDonald's parking lot at 1020 34th St. N. When officers arrived they found an Uber driver, who had been beaten and seriously injured, lying on the pavement.

Uber driver Marvin Carroll, age 47, 1619 28th St. N., was called to pick someone up at the McDonald's parking lot, 1020 34th St. N.. When he arrived, several teens and young men got into his vehicle, including brothers David Moorner, DOB 8-8/2000, and Salvatore Henderson DOB 10-20-96.

A relative at the parking lot told the driver not to accept them because Moorner had been reported as a runaway earlier that day. The relative, an aunt, was trying to take Moorner home.

Carroll, then demanded everyone to get out of his vehicle. Moorner and Henderson refused and began hitting Carroll. Once out of the vehicle, Moorner and Henderson punched Carroll, knocking him down. Carroll fell and struck his head on the pavement and is in critical condition.

Moorner and Henderson left the scene. Officers arrested them a short time later. Both are charged with aggravated battery.
